Through a self-directed trading account, you can enter orders using one of our trading platforms. We provide you tools and resources to help you make informed investment decisions. We do not provide financial, legal, tax or investment advice or recommendations. You are responsible for your own investment decisions.

We will consider whether an account with TZC will be appropriate for you, based on certain information you provide us in your account application. If you have any concerns about whether a TZC account is right for you, please contact a TZC representative at support@tradezero.ca. To comply with various domestic and international money laundering terrorism prevention initiatives, TZC may request identification, documents and other information from you. TZC may share this information with regulators, companies which perform anti-money laundering and terrorist financing reviews or the government, as necessary. This information is required to open an account and we may require you to confirm or update this information from time to time. For information on when or to whom TZC may share your information, please see our Privacy Policy.

Products

We offer access to the following investment products:

- Equities (e.g., stocks and warrants)
- Derivatives (e.g., options)

Generally, the investment products available on our trading platforms will be able to be readily liquidated or resold although there is no absolute certainty with respect to market conditions on securities exchanges or otherwise.

For more information on investment products, you can read the investment explanations in the Investments at a Glance, a booklet prepared by the Canadian Securities Administrators (“CSA”) for financial consumers. It is available on the CSA website at www.securities-administrators.ca.

3. Fees and how they are calculated

The fees you pay are on our website at: www.tradezero.ca under Pricing & Fees.

Platform fees are charged on the first day of every month and prorated starting on the fifteenth day of every month. To avoid being charged, a client must cancel or update a platform by the last day of the month.

TZC may provide compensation to third parties who refer clients to TZC. For more information, please see our Conflict of Interest Statement at <https://tradezero.com/en-ca/disclosures>

An account with TZC is intended for investors who are comfortable making their own investment decisions and taking responsibility for their investments. If you are looking for investment advice, you should not open an account with TZC.

- TZC will not provide you any recommendations and you are solely responsible for making all investment decisions in your order-execution only accounts.
- Generally, TZC will not be responsible for making a suitability determination for you and, in particular, TZC will not consider your current financial situation, investment knowledge, investment objectives and time horizon, risk tolerance, your account’s investment portfolio composition and risk level, nor other similar factors.
- Generally, TZC will not be responsible for making a determination that the products and account types offered by us are appropriate for you.

It will contain the details of the transaction including but not limited to:

7. Consent to electronic delivery of documents

As detailed in our client agreement, you consent to the electronic delivery of documents for the purpose of account opening and on an ongoing basis.

8. Investing with borrowed funds

Using borrowed funds to finance the purchase of securities, or to trade on margin, involves greater risk than using cash resources only.

If you borrow funds to purchase or trade in securities, your responsibility to repay the loan and pay interest as required by its terms remains the same, even if the value of the securities purchased declines.

An investment strategy that uses borrowed funds could result in far greater losses than an investment strategy that does not use borrowed funds.

11. Benchmarks

An investment performance benchmark is a standard against which you can compare the performance of your investments. TZC does not provide benchmarks to clients for the purpose of assessing the performance of a client's investments.

12. Trusted Contact Person

When opening an account with TZC, clients can provide the name and contact information of a trusted contact person who TZC can contact in certain circumstances including, but not limited to concerns about the possible financial exploitation of a client who is vulnerable or concerns about the client's ability to make decisions involving financial matters.

13. Temporary Holds

TZC may place a temporary hold on an account if it has a reasonable belief that a vulnerable client is being financially exploited, or that the client lacks mental capacity to make decisions involving financial matters. If a temporary hold is placed on your account, TZC will provide you notice along with the reasons for the temporary hold as soon as practicable. We will continue to review the relevant facts on an ongoing basis to determine if continuing the hold is appropriate. Within 30 days of placing the temporary hold and, until the hold is revoked, we will update you on a monthly basis to inform you if we have revoked the temporary hold or provide you with notice of our decision to continue the hold, and the reasons for that decision.
